Discover the Profound Connection Between Humans and Animals

Animals have always played an important role in human lives, from providing companionship and unconditional love to helping us heal and grow. But what if our connection with animals goes deeper than we ever imagined? What if we have sacred agreements with our animal companions that are meant to foster our shared evolution?

In her groundbreaking book, Animal Soul Contracts: Sacred Agreements for Shared Evolution, animal communicator and healer Dawn Brunke reveals the profound truth that we have soul contracts with our animal companions. These contracts are not legal agreements, but rather energetic bonds that connect us on a soul level.

Animal soul contracts are created before we are born, and they outline the lessons we are meant to learn from our animal companions. These lessons can be anything from learning to love unconditionally to overcoming our fears. Our animal companions help us to evolve by mirroring our own strengths and weaknesses, and by providing us with unconditional love and support.

When we understand the sacred nature of our animal soul contracts, we can deepen our connection with our animal companions and create more fulfilling relationships with them. We can also learn to communicate with our animals more effectively, and to heal any wounds that may have been created in our past relationships with animals.

What You'll Learn in Animal Soul Contracts
