Once upon a time, there was a little caterpillar named Carl. Carl was a very impatient caterpillar. He wanted to be a beautiful butterfly, but he didn't want to wait. He wanted to be one right now!

One day, Carl met a wise old caterpillar. The wise old caterpillar told Carl that he needed to be patient. He said that it takes time to grow and change. Carl didn't want to listen. He was too impatient.

Carl kept crawling around, looking for a way to become a butterfly. He asked all the other caterpillars he met, but they all told him the same thing: he needed to be patient.

Finally, Carl came to a big, green leaf. He decided to rest on the leaf and wait. He waited and waited. He waited for hours. He waited for days. He waited for weeks.

Finally, one day, Carl felt something different. He felt a tingling sensation all over his body. He looked down and saw that he was changing. He was turning into a chrysalis!

Carl stayed in the chrysalis for a long time. He was still impatient, but he knew that he had to be patient. He had to wait for his wings to grow.

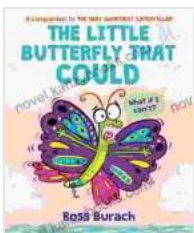

Finally, one day, Carl emerged from the chrysalis. He was a beautiful butterfly! He was so happy that he had finally become a butterfly. He flapped his wings and flew away.

Carl flew all over the meadow, enjoying his new life as a butterfly. He flew from flower to flower, sipping nectar. He played with the other butterflies. He was so happy.

Carl learned a valuable lesson that day. He learned that patience is important. He learned that it takes time to grow and change. He also learned that the rewards of patience are worth the wait.

The end.

Author's Note: This story is a reminder that patience is important in all aspects of life. It takes time to achieve our goals. It takes time to grow and change. But if we are patient, we will eventually achieve our dreams.
